STREAMLINE COURSE CONTENT AND COMMUNICATION

Since opening its doors in 1913 with only 26 students, Fullerton College has expanded exponentially and is now home to more than 14,000 students and 900 faculty members serving both full and part time. Student engagement and success have always been their top priority, their vision being to “transform lives and inspire positive change in the world” and ensure that faculty are equipped to bring this vision to fruition.

To achieve this goal, Fullerton College began looking for resources educators could use to assist students in online learning. Finding a solution that was simple for both teachers and students, as well as integrate seamlessly into Canvas, was the main goal in their search for a product. Darnell Kemp, Distance Education Director for Fullerton College, had been fielding requests for an easier means of communication for staff and students. In January 2020, Kemp caught wind of Qwickly Course Tools and how easily accessible it was. After viewing a demonstration of how the product worked, she soon brought Qwickly Course Tools to Fullerton College for a trial run. Immediately, this was met with success and praise from faculty at the school, who requested they adopt the tool immediately.

SOLUTIONS

Using the Post Announcements and Send Emails tools, things improved drastically at Fullerton College once Qwickly Course Tools was introduced to faculty. "The nice thing about Qwickly Course Tools is once you train [faculty] once..they go from there!" Kemp praised Qwickly Course Tools for how easy it was to show users how the product worked. Fullerton College saw a significant increase in communication and a decrease in confusion and misunderstanding between students and staff.

IMPACT

Fullerton College's goal for improvement in online learning and integration of in-class learning was achieved through the adoption of Qwickly Course Tools. Faculty are able to post announcements to all courses simultaneously and send emails without worrying they will get lost in spam or won't arrive altogether, creating a stress-free learning environment for all involved. Fullerton College has been content using the product they have at the moment, but Kemp expressed that should the need arise for more tools in the future, Qwickly is the first place they will turn to.

"As an Administrator, it's great to only get positive feedback from instructors when implementing a new tool and that's exactly how it's been with Qwickly!"
